

LOCAL

Sun-Sentinel, Wednesday, May 20, 1998 Section B

Brian Tingler checks out reef balls installed by students at Spanish River High School as part of a yearlong project. The cement domes are expected to become home to 450 pounds of marine life and last 500 years, said Todd Barber, president of the Reef Development Group and Foundation and inventor of the balls.